A Business That Grew the Slow, Honest Way

Bawany Enterprises started in 1996 with one goal, distributing mobile phones the right way. No shortcuts, no grey market games. Just a retail and wholesale network built on trust, one customer at a time.

That foundation carried us further than we expected. In 2005, we launched Bawany Mobile to step into accessories. Then came 2015, the year we became the first official distributor to bring Infinix into Pakistan, a milestone that changed the direction of our company for good.

From there, we kept building. In 2018, we launched Factor Group, adding Login Smart Technology and stepping into the electric sector through Factor LED, working with LED lighting, PVC tapes, and circuit breakers. In 2022, we expanded again into energy, becoming importers and distributors of solar panels from Longi, Jinko, Canadian Solar, TW, and JA Solar, along with lithium batteries from EVE Energy, Vami, Everbest, and Lithium Valley, and Sungrow inverters. And in 2026, we launched Factor Institutional under Factor Group, taking on projects at an institutional scale.

Every one of these steps came from the same place, do it properly, or don't do it.

How We Got Here

1996 — Where We Began Mobile phone distribution, built on a network of retail and wholesale shops.

2005 — Bawany Mobile Stepped into accessories, expanding what our name stood for.

2015 — Infinix Comes to Pakistan Became the first official distributor of Infinix in the country.

2018 — Factor Group Takes Shape Launched Login Smart Technology and Factor LED, entering the electric sector.

2022 — Powering Into Energy Launched Factor Solar and started importing and distributing solar panels, lithium batteries, and inverters.

2026 — Factor Institutional Extended our work into institutional scale projects under Factor Group.

Why We Do What We Do

Our Mission

To bring genuine, reliable products into every sector we touch, mobile technology, electric solutions, and renewable energy, through honest business and a supply chain people never have to question.

We're not chasing fast growth. We're building something that lasts, the same way it has for almost three decades.

Our Vision

To be the name people trust without a second thought, whether it's a phone, a solar panel, or whatever we build next.

Every business we've launched carries the same rule we started with in 1996: do it right, or don't do it at all.
